GERMANS FLEEING ACROSS COUNTRY

Leaving Much War Material Behind.

ATTEMPTS TO BREAK THROUGH

French Center Were Futile—Strong Natural Positions Are Abandoned.

FRENCH CLAIMING VICTORIES

London, Sept. 13.—An Ostend dispatch to Reuters' Telegram Company says: "Crown Prince Frederick William and Prince Adolphus of Prussia, the Emperor's third son, and Prince Carl of Wuertemberg, are reported to have died in a hospital at Brussels."

Paris, Sept. 12.—The official statement issued to-night says: "The German retreat is very rapid. The pursuit is vigorous. The Germans have abandoned many mortars."

London, Sept. 12.—The German armies, which a week ago to-day commenced a series of violent attempts to break through the French center, have found their efforts futile, and, evacuating Vitry-le-Francois, which was the pivot of their offensive and where they had fortified already strong natural positions, have retired northward.

This retirement was made imperative by the continued defeat of the German right wing, which is now somewhere northwest of Rheims, and the defeat of an army corps which was operating just east of Vitry-le-Francois, around Revigny and Sermaize, and which in its hurry to join the retirement, left a quantity of war material behind for the French to pick up.

The Germans in the Argonne district likewise have begun to fall back, so that the pressure on the forts to the southwest of Verdun, which a Berlin report said the Germans had commenced to bombard, should be relieved.

In Lorraine, too, the French claim to have won further successes and to have been enabled to straighten out their line along the frontier. They have occupied the territory east of the forest of Champenoux, Gerbeviller, Resainviller and Saint Die, thus getting in closer touch with their troops which, since the early days of the war, have held a bit of German territory in front of Colmar.

Apparently the Germans, who sent the best of their army further west, to take part in the advance on Paris, have found the mountains of Moselle and Vosges, where the French were in strong positions, too hard a nut to crack.

While the French reports say that the French army is following up all these successes, it would appear that their most serious driving movement is taking place against the German right wing, which, since Saturday last, has traveled north faster than it went south. On Friday this wing, which is composed of General von Kluck's army and a part of General von Buelow's corps, occupied a fine line which follows the River Vesle and the railway from Soissons through Fismes to the mountains immediately south of Rheims.

To-day, however, these troops must have gone still further north or east, as the British official report says the British cavalry reached that line to-day, between Soissons and Fismes, and that a number of prisoners were captured.

It is believed that General Sir John French, who won a reputation as one of the greatest cavalry leaders in the South African war, will cling to the heels of this retreating army just as long as his men and horses can stand the strain. It is possible, too, that he will get assistance from the French cavalry, which has not yet been heard of to any great extent during this war, and which is credited with being the equal of any in the world.

The French official report refers to this retirement as a general retreat, and from the rate at which the Germans are traveling it would seem to be such, although military experts are of the opinion they may make a stand or a counter-offensive when their re-enforcements, which have been sent from Belgium, reach them. Claims Big Victory.

Paris, Sept. 13.—An official statement issued this afternoon says: Gen. Gallieni, military governor of Paris, to-day received the following message from Gen. Joffre, commander-in-chief of the French army: "The battle of the last five days has ended in an undeniable victory. The retreat of the First, Second and Third German armies is hastening before our left, and at our center, in turn, the Fourth German army is commencing to fall back to the north from Vitry-le-Francois and from the Sermaize-les-Bains (in the province of Marne, seventeen miles east of Vitry-le-Francois.)

"Moreover, the enemy has left upon the battlefield many wounded and quantities of munitions of war. Also in gaining ground we have made many prisoners. Our troops show evidences of the intensity of the struggle and the extraordinary efforts made by the Germans in their attempt to resist our vehemence.

"Our vigorous retaking of the offensive has determined the success. Every officer, subaltern and soldier has responded to my call. All merit well from the Fatherland."

"JOFFRE."

In making the above message public Gen. Gallieni added this note: "The military Governor of Paris is happy to bring this telegram to the knowledge of the troops under his command. He adds his own felicitations to the army of Paris for the part it had in the operations."

"He felicitates also the troops of the entrenched camps upon the efforts which they had made during this period and which efforts should be continued without relaxation."

"GALLIENI."

DOGS PAY MORE TAXES THAN STOCKS AND BONDS

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 12.—Not quite one family in four in Kentucky owns a dog, notwithstanding the fact that 1,734,463 of a population of 2,289,905 live in the country, according to the 1913 report of the State Board of Equalization; but they average more than one sheep to the family, as the 494,784 families enumerated in the Government census report have returned for taxation 503,017 sheep. Every ninth dog, estimated from records in the Auditor's office, ate a sheep, valued at about $5, during the year, which seems to require explanation because the sheep assessed were worth less than an average of $3 the head, the 503,017 being returned at $1.504,383.

The county school funds are replenished from the balance left over in the dog tax after paying costs and the value of the sheep killed by do the value of the sheep killed by dogs. The total accruing to the school fund from the dog tax in 1913 was $43,876.69. The year before $27,335 dogs netted the schools $46,888.95, while $52,968.42 went to pay for the mutton they ate.

In a large percentage of the counties the dog tax has not been sufficient to pay for the sheep claims, and in those the amount in the fund was prorated, so that the owners received for their sheep killed by dogs only about what they were worth for purposes of taxation.

At that the dogs paid into the State more for the support of schools than the cash, stocks and bonds, excepting cash in bank, paid for all purposes.

FOREIGNERS INDULGE IN BIG FIGHT OVER WAR

Millinocket, Maine, Sept. 12.—More than 50 lumbermen battled in the woods at Grand Brook to-night after an argument over the European war.

One man was killed and three were injured, according to reports which came here. Grand Brook is 14 miles in the woods.

Two Sheriffs, who went to the scene with deputies, are reported to be on their way here with fifty-three prisoners. The lumbermen are part of a crew of a paper company. Most of them are Poles and French-Canadians.

A BITTER FEELING IS AROUSED IN AUSTRIA

Against Germany Because Of Much Burden Placed On Austrian Soldiers.

Vienna, Sept. 14.—(via Rome).—There is increasingly bitter feeling here against Germany and an almost universal demand in popular circles that the government sue for peace. The acknowledgment that the Austrian armies were compelled to meet the Russian assaults alone and unsupported while Germany invaded France, with the result that the Austrian army was crushed by overwhelming numbers, has resulted in a storm of bitter criticism of the government.

The known losses are enormous, and it is believed that they have been far greater than the government will admit. So strong and bitter is the feeling that is not believed the government can hold out much longer against it. Unless Austria sues for peace in the near future it will be very hard for the government to prevent stormy scenes, not alone in Vienna, but in every big city in Austria-Hungary.

The admission is made that the Austrians are unable to transport the wounded. The Austrian Red Cross has issued a demand that all automobiles within the country be turned over to it to transport the wounded to places where they can be properly cared for. Every hospital in Vienna is filled with desperately injured soldiers. All public halls have been requisitioned and are also full. Private houses are now being utilized and still the long trains of men, torn by shot and shrapnel, continue to arrive here.

The Russian armies hurled across the Galician frontier were enormous. It is estimated that the force which moved against Lemberg and attacked the Austrian armies that invaded Russian Poland numbered at least 1,500,000 men. The Russian tactics have been of the most modern type.

MAN SHOTS DAUGHTER—ACCIDENTAL AFFAIR

Bowling Green, Ky., Sept. 12.—Annie Embry, daughter of L. V. Embry, of Flonerville, Butler county, near Morgantown, was perhaps fatally shot late Friday afternoon by her father, who was cleaning a revolver. The revolver was accidentally discharged, the bullet entering the eye of his daughter, who was sitting in front of him reading a book. It is thought she can survive but a short time. The father of the young lady is prostrated with grief over the accident. L. E. Embry, of the Ennis sales farm at Prairie View, Ill., has been called to the bedside of his sister.

BELGIAN GOVERNMENT PAYING SUBJECTS HERE

New York, Sept. 12.—Fifteen cents a day will be paid by the Government of Belgium to every Belgian woman in America whose husband is with the Belgian army. If she has children she will receive, in addition, five cents a day for each child, which will be increased to ten cents a day in case the husband be slain. Pierre Mail, the Belgian Consul-General here, so announced to-day.

This applies to all families of soldiers, indistinctive of their financial situation.

About 200 families in the city of New York, it is estimated, are entitled to receive the remuneration. Many families in the Southern States, it is said, also are eligible.

World's Great Financier.

The world's greatest financier is the Kentucky farmer's housewife. Her daily investments exceed in shrewdness the clever transactions of Wall Street and no business concern or corporation, however ably officered, has ever been able to approach her in economy. She is the nation's ablest trader and her transactions more nearly reflect the progress and prosperity of the country than the reports of our clearing houses.

Just a Trifle Diffident.

Some American business men are willing to expand foreign commerce. If the Government will furnish 10 ships, insure cargoes, guarantee 90 per cent. profits, and pay all overhead and underground charges.—[Washington Post.

THE TOTAL OF TAXABLE PROPERTY IN KENTUCKY

Is Fixed At $864,273,838—A Gain Of $12,102,633 Over Last Year.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 12.—The total equalized value of taxable property of all kinds in Kentucky as shown by the report of the State Board of Equalization for 1914 is $864,273,838, producing a revenue to the Commonwealth of $4,321,369.21, on a levy of 50 cents on the $100, to which will be added next year a 5-cent tax for road building. In 1913 the equalized value was $852,171,205, producing a revenue of $2,260,856.02.

The total for 1914 includes the assessment of 23,318,977 acres of land, valued at $355,285,669 and personally aggregating $83,931,788, not subject to equalization.

Included in the assessment were: Bonds $ 5,781,549 Mortgage notes 27,446,909 Other notes 19,651,638 Accounts 10,837,356 Cash on hand 3,979,884 Bank deposits 12,118,986 Deposits elsewhere 421,421 Deposited with individuals 134,984 Other credit money 488,647 Domestic stocks 1,516,149 Foreign stocks 1,554,275 Thoroughbred stallions (62) 117,295 Geldings (267) 30,650 Mares and colts (3,820) 223,325 Mules (200,228) 13,705,527 Jacks (3,371) 371,391 Jennets (2,597) 74,914 Pure-bred bulls (988) 57,747 Cows (5,402) 381,352 Sheep (569,125) 1,327,912 Hogs (947,666) 4,167,045 Vehicles 6,221,137

WILD DIVE MADE AT AEROPLANE BY RUSSIAN

London, Sept. 12.—Captain Nestoroff, one of the most daring Russian aviators and the first of his countrymen to loop-the-loop, has sacrificed his life in a successful attempt to destroy an Austrian aeroplane, says a Petrograd dispatch to the Reuter Telegram company.

According to a report from the front, Captain Nestoroff was returning from an aerial reconnaissance when he saw an Austrian aeroplane hovering over the Russian forces, presumably with the intention of dropping bombs.

The Russian aviator immediately changed the direction of his machine and headed straight for that of the Austrian at full speed. Although he must have known well that victory by such tactics could be gained only at the cost of his own life, he dashed into the Austrian aeroplane. The force of the impact caused the collapse of both machines, which plunged to the earth, the two aviators meeting instant death.

John Tucker Discharged.

John Tucker, who was arrested the latter part of last July charged with maiming Jackie France, of Kronos, this county, by putting out his eye, had his examining trial before County Judge John B. Wilson last Monday. After hearing the evidence and argument of counsel, the court discharged the defendant upon the idea that the rock thrown by him accidentally struck the France boy.

CHILDREN BURNED ALIVE—LEFT ALONE IN HOUSE

Ashland, Ky., Sept. 11.—News has reached here of a catastrophe on Straight Creek, near Princess, in this county, in which three children of Ras McElvain met a terrible death. McElvain arose early this morning, and after eating his breakfast went to his work.

The mother, as was her custom, set the morning meal on the stove to keep warm, and, leaving her children, two boys, aged 5 and 3 years, and a girl, 1 year old, soundly sleeping, went out some distance from the house to milk. Having finished, she was hastening homeward when she saw that the house was enveloped in flames, and her screams brought some men who were working in a mine nearby to her side. It was all they could do to hold the frantic mother from rushing into the burning building. Being a frame house it was soon burned to the ground and from the embers the charred bodies of the little ones were recovered and placed in one casket. The funeral will be held Saturday morning in the little church nearby. The cause of the fire is unknown.

JAMES B. HAGGIN DIES AT HIS SUMMER HOME

New York, Sept. 12.—James B. Haggin, millionaire, capitalist and horseman, died at his summer home here to-night of heart trouble after an illness of about five weeks. The end was not unexpected, as he had been growing weaker for several days, but his remarkable vitality kept him alive. No funeral arrangements have been made.

James B. Haggin was born at Harrodsburg in 1827, the son of Feraht T. and Adaline S. Haggin. After his early education he was prepared for the legal profession which he followed for some time, practicing for a short time in Natchez, Miss., and St. Joseph, Mo., until 1849, when he went to California during the gold fever. He was married in early life to a daughter of Col. Lewis Sanders, of Natchez, but his first wife died in 1894. In 1897 he was married to Pearl Voorhies, of Versailles, Ky. He made a fortune in mining.

TO VOTE ON COMMISSION FORM OF GOVERNMENT

Hopkinsville, Ky., Sept. 12.—County Judge Knight has ordered an election on the proposition to establish government by commission in this city, the vote to be taken in November, when other elections are held. The basis of the order was a petition to which were attached 1,153 names. It is provided by the order that in the event the vote is favorable to commission government, four men shall be placed in nomination for commissioners in August, 1915, and that from these two shall be selected who shall serve at a salary of $1,800 each. It is further provided that Mayor Yost shall also be a member of the commission during the remaining two years of his term.

AMERICAN SLANG GETS COLLEGE MAN IN JAIL

New York, Sept. 14.—Prof. Edouard San Giovanni was sojourning at Sienna, Italy, when the war in Europe broke out. All his funds were deposited in the Sienna banks, which were closed shortly after hostilities began. In need of immediate financial assistance he wired his colleague, Dr. Alexander Becker, an instructor in the Manual Training High School, Brooklyn, who was then at Markirch, Alsace, as follows: "Kale all gone; wire thirty beans at once."

When the German censor at Markirch intercepted this message the strange words evidently aroused his suspicion. "Kale" looked somewhat like "Kehl," a town in Baden, on the Rhine, and "Beans" bore some resemblance to "Bombs." Apparently the censor concluded that Dr. Becker was implicated in a plot to blow up the big bridge at Kehl. He was kept in a cell for thirty hours. Then he was given twelve hours to leave Germany and fled to Switzerland.

Germany's War Color.

An invisible gray is worn by German soldiers. It is a gray with a greenish tint and is said to blend with the ground, or with houses; or, in fact, with almost anything better than any other color. Not only are the Kaiser's men clothed in these suits, but their rifles, the cannons and field pieces and carriages upon which they rest are similarly colored. The German war chiefs are confident that their troops are the least easily seen and therefore offer the poorest targets of any soldiers in the world.—[Brooklyn Standard Union.

Corn and Tobacco Good.

In his crop report for the month of September, Commissioner of Agriculture Newman says that a month of seasonable weather has made a vast change in the crop outlook for this year. The condition of the tobacco and corn crops has improved to such an extent that average crops will be realized.

MIGHTIEST GUN EVER INVENTED

Now Being Used In the German Army.

COST OF EACH SHOT $2,500

Krupps Alone Hold the Secret Of Construction Of This Weapon.

KRUPP MEN ALONE FIRE IT

Berlin, by Courier to London, September 12.—If Germany wins the war it will not have been might but science that conquered. It will have been the science of warfare, such as other nations have known and practiced, though not so well, but, above all, it will have been the science of artillery, for the pinnacle of German war science is the 16.5-inch Krupp mortar, the most miraculous and powerful weapon in the history of war.

The Krupp mortar is the one unique and astonishing product of this age of fighting.

Mentioned by thousands the Krupp mortar is known only by a few. The gun was invented eight years ago, but only those in the confidence of the Krupps know who the inventor is.

For eight years the Krupps worked at the secret while guarding it with rigorous precautions. This year they perfected it. This mortar fires the largest and most dangerous projectile ever shot from a weapon. In making it no single workman worked on more than one small piece, and one vital part of its machinery was made in Austria.

What was done at Liege and Namur and which may soon be done at Antwerp and Paris was this: At some distance from a fort a space was cleared and a great mortar set in a concrete bed occupying a circle with a radius of 100 feet. Behind the mortar and outside this circle was a tunnel leading to a subterranean chamber. The great mortar was sighted, the projectile was set in place and then the gunners retired to their underground chamber. Here they pressed a button and the mighty shot was fired.

The explosion was terrible. Any one within 50 feet of the gun at the time of the explosion would be killed. Even men in the neighboring armies complained of headaches and toothaches from the jar.

The projectile pierced through one, two and three ordinarily impenetrable walls and buried itself in a fourth. Here it lay silent many seconds, then exploded like a volcano, bringing to the ground in ruins every stone which had stood upon another.

Each shell costs $2,500. What it contains the Krupps only know. It is taken to the battlefield in pieces and assembled by the highest paid and most trusted of the Krupp engineers. It is aimed and loaded by them, and not one member of the Artillery Corps in the Kaiser's army has anything to do with it.

Krupp Experts Captured.

Amsterdam, Sept. 12.—A large German aeroplane has been shot at and brought down by Belgians at Stypen, East Flanders, the incident leading to important captures.

Three officers who were in the machine proved to be well known Krupp experts, including Jacob and Scheljemk, who delivered the guns to the new Belgian forts a few months ago, and Von Reetzon, who was prominent in all the Krupp experiments.

All of them were arrested.

Tobacco Going to Ireland.

Henderson, Ky., Sept. 14.—The European war has caused all tobacco dealers to cease shipments to foreign countries, although the Galaher, Limited, began Friday a shipment of 1,000 hogsheads from Providence, Princeton, Henderson and Owensboro, to its main factory at Belfast, Ireland. The tobacco is heavily insured and is needed at once by the firm. The tobacco will be loaded on English ships at Newport News, Va.

Mrs. Amanda Weeks, the last survivor of those held for complicity in the death of President Lincoln, is dead.

The Great Ohio County Fair

BEGINS WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 23---FOUR DAYS.

BIGGER AND BETTER THAN EVER BEFORE

There will be unusual attractions this year giving four days of great enjoyment. The Speed Rings offer chances for some fine racing. There will be other and various attractions. "ROLL UP THE MAP OF EUROPE"

It's Features Will Be Entirely Changed

WHEN PRESENT WAR IS OVER

Pitt's Remark Will Probably Apply When the Smoke Clears Away.

IS A WAR OF GIGANTIC GRAFT

(By Herbert Quick.)

The great antagonist of Napoleon Bonaparte was the English statesman, William Pitt.

When the news came to him that Napoleon had beaten the Austrians and Russians at Austerlitz, he was at a watering place, a sick man. He went home, and when he arrived at his villa at Putney he was a dying man.

He saw on the walls a map of Europe. "Roll up that map!" he cried. "It will not be needed again for ten years!"

When the decisive battle of this war comes, the statesmen may well say "Roll up the map of Europe!" For it will not be needed again in its present form for not ten, but a hundred years.

H. G. Wells says that the war is to preserve the rest of Europe against Germany. So far as this is true it refers to the German Emperor only.

Hugo Munsterberg says that it is a war of the Teutonic race against the Slav race, and that it is a "moral war" on both sides—that is to say, a righteous war.

In this statement, I think, Professor Munsterberg gives us his measure. He is a great psychologist, but his own intellect does not distinguish between the ambitions of the slave people and those of the ruling class of Russia. All the Slavonic common people desire is a chance to work, to use the lands they already occupy, to have peace and freedom.

No slav threatens the home of a German because he covets it. There is room in the dominions of the Russian Czar for all the people of Germany and Russia and Austria-Hungary if those countries were swallowed up in the sea.

The thing required for this is freedom, justice, and access to the land. But the Russian ruling caste would be delighted to extend their Czardoms over the whole world. It would give them more poor people on whose industry they might fatten in luxury.

So when the map of Europe is rolled up, its changes will be wrought in the interest, not of Slav or Teuton, but of Hohenzollern and Romanoff.

Could these great royal families, with the rest of their cousins and kindred, be swept from the map by an uprising of the people, could the natural human right to land be recognized all over Europe—not land in some remote region, to be wrested from its present tillers, but land on the next estate, owned by the descendants of the feudal despots who conquered it in past generations—there would be nothing for Teuton and Slav to war about.

It is really a war for gigantic graft—which most governments have been formed to legalize. It is not a moral war. It is a war for power over the surplus labor of the embattled millions who are fighting in it. It is a war in which poor men fight for a choice of masters.

This is the inconceivable thing—so many years, too, since Cadmus invented the alphabet, and Gutenberg devised movable types!

MARSHALL'S INTENTIONS ARE NON-COMMITTAL

The Washington Evening Star says:

"Vice President Marshall has no intention at this time of either accepting or refusing the nomination for the Vice Presidency in 1916. He made this evident in commenting on the statement in several papers that he probably would not be a candidate for re-election.

"The offices of President, particularly, and of Vice President, incidentally," he said, "are of such importance that the people ought not to be importuned in regard to the selection of candidates, but ought to be allowed to select whom they will, without let or hindrance.

"I want to say at this time, in view of the printing of the comment that I would not be a candidate to succeed myself, that I never have written to, or personally asked any man to vote for me. I did not protest when one of my bitterest enemies from my own county was seated at the convention which nominated me for the Governorship of Indiana."

KAISER'S LUCKY RING— DOES HE WEAR IT NOW?

Does the Kaiser take with him to the front the famous Hohenzollern "luck"? Frederick the Great, on his accession, found among his father's belongings a small box containing a ring set with a peculiar black stone and a note by Frederick I., stating that the ring was given him by his father on his deathbed, with the injunction that so long as it remained in the family the fortunes of the Hohenzollerns would prosper.

The ring was stolen from Frederick William II. by his mistress, the Countess Lichtenau, and hence, say some, the Prussian disasters of the Napoleonic wars. It was restored in 1813, the year of Prussian liberation, and Schneider, the biographer of William I., declared that he saw it on that monarch's hand during the great war of 1870. —[London Chronicle.

Acute Indigestion.

"I was annoyed for over a year by attacks of acute indigestion, followed by constipation," writes Mrs. M. J. Gallagher, Geneva, N. Y. "I tried everything that was recommended to me for this complaint but nothing did me much good until about four months ago I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them from our druggist. I soon realized that I had gotten the right thing, for they helped me at once. Since taking two bottles of them I can eat heartily without any bad effects." Sold by all dealers. (Advertisement.)

Battlefield Statistics.

The result of careful observations made at battlefield hospitals by one of the leading surgical authorities of the French gives the relative frequency of wounds not instantaneously mortal as: Slight, 60 per cent; serious, 15 per cent; very serious, 25 per cent. The experience of recent wars shows the head and the right arm as the most frequent edging places of projectiles.

AWFUL SIEGE OF PARIS RECALLED

When Germans Were At Their Gates.

HORSEFLESH WAS CHIEF FOOD

City Filled With Wounded Soldiers Beaten Back in Desperate Sorties.

HORRORS MAY BE RE-ENACTED

To-day stalwart men eagerly kill thousands of rats in the city of New Orleans, in co-operation with municipal, State and national health officers, that the bubonic plague may not spread, and they are achieving the desired results.

Forty-four years ago, distressed and starving women and children desperately hunted rats for food in the sewers of the city of Paris, besieged by the Germans.

Such is the far call from a work of peace and the business of war!

At this time, when millions of armed men are marching in Europe, who can say there will not be some great city of the Old World that will stubbornly resist an entrance by the invader and experience a repetition of the horrors that blighted the lives of the gay Parisiennes nearly half a century ago?

The American of to-day who complains of the high prices for necessities—and often justly so—would have to subject his imagination to unusual activity to draw a picture of his state of woe, had he lived in Paris in 1871, and faced starvation, pestilence and death by cold.

Wives and children of some of the French soldiers were not searching for rats, but were standing for hours in long bread lines, in order to receive at the end their day's rations—less than half a pound of bread and an ounce of meat! The bread was coarse and made from the sweepings of rye and the meat was horseflesh! And they stood in cold and sleet in straw-stuffed wooden shoes, while projectiles from the German artillery fell in the streets, and the men of the city, by the thousands, were dying from wounds, privation, cold or disease.

It was early in January of 1871, one of France's coldest winters. Since September Paris had been hemmed in on all sides by vast hordes of German troops. And she was destined to hold out heroically, suffering indescribable horrors of disease, starvation and death, for nearly a month longer!

From the first of the siege the city was in a feverish, almost hysterical state. The newspapers published inspiring promises of early succor, of great victories of the French troops in the provinces. And the next day these rosy stories were denied, and the bitter truth of another defeat was published.

The reaction was one of hopeless depression among all the people. To add to the troublous times, the citizens were never secure from bloody uprisings and riots by the rabble. There were fierce attacks on the government officials, often actually led by officers of the national guard!

Paris was peopled by women and children and old men. All the males of fighting age were on the walls or in the trenches and forts outside. Those women who had a few pennies or who had husbands in the national guard were entitled to the ounce of horseflesh and half pound of bread a day. But there were many destitute who were forced to forage for rat meat or starve. And many froze to death for lack of fuel. In one night 900 soldiers froze in a bivouac outside Paris!

The armies were being continually sent out upon sorties. Paris' only hope was to break through the Prussian lines. But each sortie was repulsed, and the bleeding bodies in the streets and alleys and frozen mud roads of the suburbs told of more widows and orphans left in the starving capital!

Women of wealth and position joined with the poor and side by side labored in improvised hospitals. The magnificent corridors of the Theater Francaise, which a few months earlier were filled nightly with many gaily-dressed, laughing pleasure-seekers, now echoed with the groans of the dying. The theater was a hospital!

And then came the bombardment. The German gunners picked out the city's sore spots to prod with their cannon. In those three weeks over 100 women and children were killed by the shells, and the total mortality among the non-combatant population was 396!

And yet, through all these horrors, such as few cities have ever endured, gay Paris still maintained faint traces of its traditional joyousness.

People used to gather about the sports where the shells were bursting to watch and laugh at the antics and havoc they wrought in deserted houses and streets. Boys would run after a shell had burst and collect pieces of it to sell as souvenirs at prices ranging from one to five francs.

But the peddling of her day's ration of half a pound of bread, by an aged grandmother, starving herself, but in need of money to buy medicines for her sick grandchild, was a far less humorous, but a tragically common, sight. Disease carried off 64,200 victims during a few months of the siege!

When at last Paris surrendered there were provisions for not more than four days within the walls! The Germans allowed the French full liberty at once in going out after food, but predicted it would take twenty days to bring in enough to save the city.

Desperate efforts, however, resulted in the arrival of a train of flour and coal from Lille on the sixth day. And that saved the beautiful city of 2,000,000 inhabitants from the terrible fate of utter starvation!

Why It Hurt.

The most ghastly superstition has often its base in a ludicrous fact. It is like the case of Jones.

"Jones," said a man, "tells me that his wooden leg pained him horribly last night."

"Nonsense!" was the reply. "How could his wooden leg pain him?"

"His wife," explained the man, "hit him over the head with it!"

OPEN DOOR MAY LEAD INTO FIGHT

Present Policy Of China Threatening.

MIGHT DRAG UNITED STATES

Into European War, Is the View Of a Prominent Law Expert.

DOESN'T WISH TO BE ALARMIST

(The following article was written for The Louisville Herald by Prof. Edward Elliott, brother-in-law of President Wilson and a recognized expert on international law. For ten years Prof. Elliott was connected with Princeton University. He was Dean of the College and Professor of Politics. As a student in Germany, at Heidelberg and Berlin, Prof. Elliott gained much of his knowledge of international law, and his familiarity with conditions on the Continent makes him particularly fitted to discuss authoritatively the present conflict and world crisis. Prof. Elliott is a prominent member of the San Francisco Bar and at present is lecturing on international law at the University of California.)

(By Edward Elliott.)

Since the acquisition of colonial possessions in the Pacific the United States has been interested in territorial changes in the Far East and is not likely to sit idly by and see these possessions threatened.

Threlin lies the possibility that this country may be drawn into the world conflict.

Fortunately the possibility is remote, for there seems no reason to doubt the integrity and solemn assurance given by the Japanese Government to the effect that the demanded transfer of Kiau Chau was for the purpose of ultimate restoration to China.

Should Japan not carry out her promise to restore Kiau Chau or should she take other steps involving the integrity of Chinese territory it might then become a question whether or not the interests of the United States were threatened.

The "open door" policy and the maintenance of the integrity of China falls far short of the Monroe Doctrine for the United States in the Far East, and it would be a grave mistake for this country to assume any unnecessary burdens.

If we can keep a reflection of European wars from the American Continent we shall be accomplishing all that can reasonably be expected of us and at the same time protecting our primary interests.

The situation in the Orient, with Japan and Germany at war, goes back to the close of the Chino-Japanese war when Japan, as victor, sought from China the cession of Port Arthur and was robbed of her victory by Germany, seconded by France and Russia, who stepped in and said they would not sanction the cession. Japan appealed to England, without avail. Instead, within the next four years, the port was ceded to Russia, Kiau Chau to Germany and Wei-Hei-Wei to England. The Russo-Japanese war was the result of Japan's treatment at that time, the recovery of Port Arthur being to Japan what the recovery of Alsace-Lorraine would mean to France.

England has abandoned Wei-Hei-Wei, leaving only Germany in possession of territory in North China.

This is regarded by Japanese people, whatever the government motives, as an excellent opportunity for revenge for her treatment in 1895 and to make her influence supreme in China.

The United States has always advocated the "open door" policy, meaning equal commercial advantages for all nations and the preservation of China's integrity, the United States having been first to recognize the new republic, and having in many ways placed herself in the light of China's friend.

At the beginning of the present general conflict China appealed to the United States to secure a neutralization of her territory.

All these factors make the possibility that the United States may be drawn into the world conflict less remote.

There is no wish to be an alarmist, but who would have thought that the assassination of an Austrian archduke on June 28 would have resulted in a war involving five great Powers of Europe, three smaller ones and Japan, within two months?

BOSTON WAY—"TWINKLE, TWINKLE, LITTLE STAR"

"Miss Emersonia Osgoodson will now favor the company with a recitation," announced the teacher to the friends who had assembled in the schoolroom to enjoy the regular Friday afternoon exercises.

Little Miss Emersonia recited as follows:

"Coruscate, coruscate, diminutive stellar orb! How inexplicable to me seems the stupendous problem of thy existence!"

"Elevated to such an immeasurable distance in the illimitable depths of space, apparently in a perpendicular direction from this terrestrial planet that we occupy!"

"Resembling in thy dazzling and unapproachable effulgence a crystallized carbon gem of unsurpassing brilliancy and impenetrability, glittering in the ethereal vault whose boundless immensity we endeavor to bring within the compass of the human intellectual grasp by the use of the concrete term firmament!"

When the dear little Boston girl had finished in her rapt, soulful, Bostonian way and sat down, there wasn't a dry spectacle in the schoolroom.

A GREAT OCCASION WAS THE MEETING Of Farmers At Beaver Dam Sept. 3.

AN ORGANIZATION PERFECTED The Addresses By Experts Were Very Interesting and Instructive.

RESOLUTIONS WERE ADOPTED

Pursuant to a call, the farmers, in the vicinity of Beaver Dam, Ky., met at the opera house in Beaver Dam, on the 3d of September, and organized with Dr. S. D. Taylor, temporary president, and J. M. Porter, temporary secretary. The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. Russell, and the following were appointed a committee on resolutions to report back to the said meeting after the closing of the regular program: S. L. Stevens, E. C. Baird and E. G. Austin.

The temporary chairman, Dr. S. D. Taylor, made a very interesting and instructive address of welcome, after which, in a few very appropriate words of praise, he introduced Dr. Mutchler, of the Lexington Experiment Station. Dr. Mutchler entertained us in a talk of about one and a-half hours, on soil-building, in which he gave the farmers much useful and valuable information, which if put into practice will be worth thousands of dollars to the farmers of Ohio county. The farmer who missed this lecture missed one of the best treats of his life. There was quite a large number of farmers present, who seemed to be carried away with Dr. Mutchler's lecture.

Said Dr. Mutchler: "There are four things which are necessary to make land fat, viz.: 1st, organic matter, which is had by plowing under stable manure and growing crops, beans and peas preferable; 2d, phosphorus, a mineral of which all lands, in order to reach the highest degree of productiveness, should have 2,200 pounds to the acre, but the lands of Ohio county only have about 500 pounds, and the bluegrass lands of Kentucky have some 5,500 pounds. If the lands of Ohio county had as much phosphorus as the blue grass land, they would have better soil than the blue grass, because the blue grass has a strata of rock about three feet under the ground, and Ohio county has a deep clay; 3d, potash, all but about 10 per cent. of Kentucky soil has enough potash, and that 10 per cent. was low, sandy bottom; 4th, nitrogen, of which the air was full and could be easily deposited in the soil by the aid of the bean family."

After Dr. Mutchler's talk, chairman Taylor introduced Mr. C. L. Clayton, Supt. Louisville Gardening Club, who entertained us very highly with a one-hour's talk on how to cultivate and take care of our orchards and make the orchard patch a paying one, instead of an encumbrance, as it is in many instances at present. Mr. Clayton thoroughly understood his subject and gave us many practicable suggestions which if followed, would be of much lasting benefit to the farmers of Ohio county. At this juncture the meeting adjourned for noon to meet again at 1 o'clock.

After noon Dr. Mutchler entertained us for an hour and a half on co-operation. He urged the farmers to organize and do their buying and selling through their organization, to combine their efforts in trying to produce the best article possible either in plant or stock; that if they had the quantity and the quality, there was no question about the buyer coming to them and paying the best price. Dr. Mutchler had to cut this talk short in order to catch the train.

After this Judge Jno. B. Wilson made us a very sensible and instructive talk which was sparkling with his characteristic wit and good common sense, and in which he showed he was interested in the common welfare of the farmers of Ohio county and was willing to use his office to advance their interests in every way consistent with honesty, law and the general good of the whole county, whenever an opportunity presented itself. He was followed by Prof. J. L. Stillwell, who very highly entertained us for a few minutes on the comparative values of property and human force, which he said was about 5 to 1 in favor of human values; that is, the power of human mind and muscle for production is 5 times greater than all real and personal property. After which Mr. Clayton gave us another short talk on fruit culture, and then for some 30 minutes asked and answered questions pertaining to the care and treatment of fruit trees, which resulted in the farmers gaining much valuable information on this subject.

At this point Dr. Taylor being called away to attend some of his patients, J. M. Porter was called to the chair, and as the hour was growing late, the report of the committee on resolutions was called for, which was as follows:

Whereas, we, citizen farmers of Beaver Dam and community, in token of our appreciation of the many courtesies shown us on this occasion, hereby submit the following resolutions:

Resolved, that we extend our thanks to the gentlemen from Lexington and Louisville, and our County Judge, who have honored us with their presence and given us such valuable instructions on this occasion.

Resolved, that we extend to Mr. John Barnes our thanks for so kindly furnishing us with such a commodious and convenient place of meeting.

Resolved, that we extend to the citizens of Beaver Dam our thankful appreciation for the many courtesies and glad hand of welcome so freely extended to us and their manifest interest in our work and general welfare.

Resolved, that we make this a permanent organization, that we elect proper officers, and that we have a stated time and place of meeting.

S. L. STEVENS,
E. G. AUSTIN,
E. C. BAIRD,
Committee.

The meeting then proceeded to effect a permanent organization by electing Dr. S. D. Taylor, president; James L. Brown, vice president, and J. M. Porter, secretary, who were instructed to call a meeting in the near future for the purpose of further perfecting the organization. On motion the following committee was appointed to draft a set of by-laws: S. L. Stevens, E. G. Austin, Urban Miller and G. W. Snodgrass. After which the meeting adjourned.

This meeting was said by many, who had been attending all the Farmers' Institutes of this and adjoining counties, to be the best and the most largely attended of any institute that they had attended.

SIG SAUTELLE'S BIG SHOWS WILL ATTRACT THOUSANDS AT HARTFORD, SEPT. 17.

$1,500 a Day to Meet the Current Expenses of This Ponderous Combination, With Its Hundreds of Horses, Animals, Men, Women and Children.

One can hardly appreciate the tremendous cost of assembling and maintaining a combination of such colossal proportions.

The day has passed when a few performers and a small menagerie are considered of any consequence in the Circus world. Nowadays it takes capital, resources, experience, numbers, quality and quantity of variety as well as class, to interest those of real mind and caliber. The Sautelle shows carry such a great variety as well as rare collection of beasts, birds and reptiles as to rival many of the premanent Zoological gardens of the greater cities. How frequently one hears enquiries as to name, nature and captivity of such strange fellows of the collection in this educational department. The attendants and lecturers are at ways at the command of patrons, willing to impart such information. One can learn more of natural history in a single visit to this collection than they can assimilate from books and papers in a lifetime.

There are Elephants, Camels, Cattle of Holy writ, Llamas, Aoudads, Ibex, Hartbeest, Nyngau, Antelope, Natal, Duiker, Sambur Buck, Zebus, Lions, Tigers, Jaguar, Leopards, Cheeta, Hybrids, Bears and Giant Rhear and Cassories from the deserts.

Especial expense has been added in making the Trained Wild Animal department superior to any of the so-called Wild Animal shows. With such famous teachers and exponents as Herr Zemmler and dainty Myrtle May in daily performances in the large steel arenas, revelations of latter-day accomplishments afford golden Meccas.

Free daily, is our street parade with its numerous blooded equines, open dens of animals, tabaleaux, Blanket Indians, Frontiersmen, Clowns, Three Bands of music, Band Organ and Orchestra on Steam Calliope.

Two full trains of people and paraphernalia, in fact so much for the money that it bewilders opponents and dwarfs contemporaries.

VILLA AND CARRANZA WORKING On Same Program—Agree On An Election Which May End Strife.

WILSON IS STILL CONFIDENT

Washington, Sept. 10.—The basis for the recent assertion of President Wilson that he believed Carranza and Villa would co-operate in restoring constitutional government in Mexico was revealed when it became known that Gen. Obregon, personal friend of Gen. Carranza, had signed the proposals of Gen. Villa for an electoral programme.

Gen. Villa's proposals were laid before Paul Fuller, personal representative of President Wilson, at a recent conference in Chihuahua. The President later told callers the proposals did not appear unreasonable. Mr. Fuller had an interview with Gen. Carranza in Mexico City today, and it was reported that the first chief also indicated his assent to the programme mapped out by Villa, which is as follows:

"That a convention of the delegates of the Constitutionalist army be called to arrange the date of the election for Congress, President and Vice President.

"That no military man be a candidate for President or Vice President or for Governor of any State.

"That a civilian take charge of the provisional government to hold elections.

"That a general amnesty be declared except as to those who committed the crime or participated in the assassination of Madero and Suarez.

"That the officers of the old Federal army who can show clean records shall be taken into the national army.

"That all reforms shall be put through in an energetic manner, but on a legal and constitutional basis."

Gen. Carranza already has complied with the first proposal by calling a general convention for October 1 to select a Provisional President. Under the Mexican constitution the Provisional President cannot be a candidate in elections conducted under his administration. Gen. Carranza, therefore, if desirous of becoming Provisional President, will not be in office longer than the period necessary to arrange an election. If he resigns as first chief in favor of the new Provisional President he may enter the Presidential race, as his friends claim he is not a "military man" in the accepted sense in Mexico, even though he has held the title of "General" in the Constitutionalist army.

The belief prevails here that Carranza will resign in favor of a civilian, as proposed by Villa, and that he then will wage an active political campaign for the Presidency. It is fully expected that Villa will not support Carranza at the polls, but he has not revealed the identity of his candidate.

It is generally understood here that while the formal recognition may be extended to the Provisional President, American forces will not be withdrawn from Vera Cruz until the election for permanent President is actually held.

PRESIDENT ASKS THE WHOLE UNITED STATES

To Pray For Peace On Sunday, October 4—His Proclamation.

Washington, Sept. 10.—President Wilson has signed a proclamation calling on the people of the United States to pray for peace in Europe.

The President's proclamation sets aside Sunday, October 4, as a day of prayer.

President Wilson's proclamation was as follows:

"By the President of the United States of America.

"A PROCLAMATION."

"Whereas, Great nations of the world have taken up arms against one another and war now draws millions of men into battles whom the counsel of statesmen have not been able to save this terrible sacrifice; and

"Whereas, In this as in all things it is our privilege and duty to seek counsel and succor of Almighty God, humbling ourselves before Him, confessing our weakness and our lack of any wisdom equal to these things; and

"Whereas, It is the special wish and longing of the people of the United States, in prayer and counsel and all friendliness, to serve the cause of peace;

"Therefore I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do designate Sunday, the fourth day of October next, a day of prayer and supplication, and do request all God-fearing persons to repair on that day to their places of worship, there to unite their petitions to Almighty God, that, overruling the counsel of men, setting straight the things they cannot govern or alter, taking pity on the nations now in the throes of conflict, in His mercy and goodness showing a way where men can see none, He vouchsafe His children healing peace again and restore once more that concord among men and nations without which there can be neither happiness nor true friendship, nor any wholesome fruit of toil or thought in the world; praying also to this end that He forgive us our sins, our ignorance of His holy will, our willfulness and many errors and lead us in the paths of obedience to places of vision and to thoughts and counsels that purge and make wise.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the city of Washington this eighth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fourteen, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and thirty-ninth.

"(Signed.) WOODROW WILSON.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For United States Senator.
Long Term—J. C. W. BECKHAM.
Short Term—JOHNSON N. CAMDEN.

For Congress.
HON. BEN JOHNSON.

Nowadays, instead of "their mount being shot from under them," the war chieftains have their auto tires punctured by fragments of flying shells.

President Wilson has given out the word that he will consider it a personal favor if all the candidates on the Democratic State ticket in Kentucky are elected this fall. This should be taken note of by all Democratic voters. The President's policies can best be aided by complying with his choice in regard to men who will support them. The Democratic ticket should go through with handsome majorities.

Better quit kickin' your dog around and pay tax on him—or kill him. Reports from the Auditor's office estimate that the dogs of the State paid into the Treasury more for the support of schools than the cash, stocks and bonds (excepting cash in bank) paid for all purposes. And yet it is a fact that there are many thousands of worthless dogs in the State, and they are a constant menace to the worthy industry of sheep-raising. Less dogs and more sheep would be a good aim, carried out.

The newspapers of the country, both daily and weekly, are doing their utmost to acquaint their readers with the actual facts pertaining to the European war, but even at that the news is mostly a conglomeration of happenings. This is because the news comes over mostly in bulletins or short accounts. Even in this way, war news frequently contradicts itself. The stupendous magnitude of the war, the vast area which it covers and the millions of soldiers engaged in it, make it almost impossible to afford any succinct or decisive news.

The new spirit in party politics calls for the elimination of partisan feeling to a great extent and substitutes therefor the idea of justice and fair dealing towards all concerned. This is to meet the demands of voters who are more independent with their ballots nowadays than ever before. A man can belong to any political party and still have a feeling of respect and consideration for those who differ from him along plain party lines. All the real patriots and wise men can hardly be brought within the radius of one party membership.

In another column of The Herald to-day will be found a report of the proceedings of the Farmers' Meeting or Institute held at Beaver Dam, this county, on the 3d inst. On this occasion the farmers of Ohio county held a very enthusiastic and profitable meeting. Closing the proceedings they adopted a set of resolutions, thanking various parties for favors granted. We notice, however, that in these resolutions no notice was taken of the generous free publicity given the event by The Herald. We hope this seeming ingratitude was merely an oversight.

There are many objectionable bills which pass through the Kentucky Legislature at almost every session with apparently no more notice paid to them than a chunk floating down stream. The public knows nothing about such laws until the effect of their enactment becomes apparent. Among several of these measures was one recently enacted (its author an Owensboro man) which prevents cities of the third class from collecting a poll tax. It is understood that its author "didn't go to do it," but it was dumped out of the hopper in legal form just the same.

It is estimated that the European war will take a million men (foreigners) away from the United States to fight their country's battles. Looks like our immigration laws are faulty some way. Every male foreigner coming to this country who is of proper age should be required to take out naturalization papers or subscribe to an oath of allegiance to the customs and welfare of his adopted country. The present European crisis seems harmless to us, but in case our country should ever come to arms against another nation, it would not be well for us to be caught with thousands of that nation's loyal subjects right here in our midst.

BASE BALL.

On Saturday afternoon at East End Park the second teams of Hartford and Equality tied up in what will probably prove the last game of the local season. Only a few fans were on hand, but they got their money's worth. The official boss of proceedings was our local ball magnate, Hon. J. C. Her. Pirtle and Barnett toiled for the Bearkittens, while Steersman and E. Brown were on the points for the visitors. The twirlers were a little wild, but both performed in creditable style on the whole. The playing in general was not of big league caliber, but the lads sure did put on a screecher when it comes to hair-raising interest. The scrap was nip and tuck from start to finish and it took twelve hard-fought innings to decide it. At the finish Pirtle won his own game when he laced out a good, safe bingle, bringing in the final and deciding run. Score: Hartford, 6; Equality, 5.

TURKEY NOW REVOKES FORMER RIGHTS GRANTED

Foreign Subjects Will No Longer Enjoy the Territorial Privileges.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Turkey has formally notified the United States and nations of the world that she has abrogated a series of conventions, treaties and privileges originating as early as the eleventh century, whereby foreigners in the Ottoman empire had been exempt from local jurisdiction in criminal and civil cases. Foreign subjects no longer will enjoy what is known as extra territorial rights, through which they have been tried by their own judges, diplomatic representatives and consuls.

Her purpose, it is declared, is to assert her independence and free herself from the great powers' domination.

Upon the rights revoked has rested the legal status of American missionaries in Turkey, permitting them to maintain churches, hospitals and schools in religious freedom.

Administration officials decline to discuss the effect of Turkey's actions on American missions.

There was a suggestion that Germany had encouraged the move. So far as the allies' diplomats would venture an opinion the prediction is made that Great Britain, France and Russia probably would not make any representations on the subject until the close of the war.

PHYSICIAN HUNG SELF—NO CAUSE IS ASSIGNED

Cynthiana, Ky., Sept. 11.—Dr. W. F. Phillips, 55 years old, who lived in eastern part of this county, committed suicide last night by hanging in the barn of his brother-in-law, R. W. Rankin, near his home. The body was found this morning by his nephew, Lawrence Rankin. It is thought he had been dead about nine hours.

Last night Dr. Phillips had been summoned to attend Mrs. Orie Florence, who is dangerously ill of typhoid fever, and the occupants of the Florence home noticed he had a halter in his pocket, although he had no need for the same. He had also indorsed some checks and mailed them to the Farmers' National Bank in this city besides giving some notes due him to his wife. He left no message of any kind.

His family and friends can assign no motive for his act, as he seemed in splendid health and his financial affairs were in good shape, it is believed. He is survived by his wife, one daughter and two brothers.

Asks Removal of Troops.

Mexico City, Sept. 13.—Gen. Alvaro Obregon last night telegraphed to Gen. Carranza a request from Gen. Villa that the Constitutionalist chief request Washington to remove the United States troops from Vera Cruz. The dispatch quoted Gen. Villa as follows:

"With the dissolution of the Huerta government and the disbandment of the Federal army now completed, we should have but one flag waving over Mexican soil. It is humiliating that the stars and stripes yet wave."

Under orders received from Washington the embargo on arms along the Mexican border was lifted and the border patrol removed.

The Morganfield Sun of Friday says that Miss Isabel Mauzy died at her home there Tuesday of last week, after a lingering illness of tuberculosis. She had been a sufferer for several months and in the last two months had sunk very rapidly. Miss Mauzy was employed as an operator in the local telephone exchange before her illness. Funeral services and interment took place in Morganfield on Wednesday afternoon. Miss Mauzy was formerly a resident of Hartford and is well remembered here.

The Ohio County Fair commences next Wednesday, continuing four days. Dr. L. B. Bean, the manager, has been very busy making arrangements and everything points to a very successful and enjoyable Fair. It is always a great occasion for the meeting of old friends and kindred you have not seen for a long while and from present indications the attendance will be greater this time than for many years past. It deserves the support of every citizen of the county and all who go will get their money's worth in enjoyment.

J. P. McKinney Dead.

Mr. J. P. McKinney died at his residence at Beaver Dam yesterday morning at 11:45 o'clock. After funeral services at the Christian church, conducted by Eld. W. B. Wright, his pastor, at 9 o'clock this morning, his remains will be taken to Rochester, Ky., where interment will take place under the supervision of the Masonic order, of which he was a prominent member.

Mr. McKinney, who was in his 65th year and a member of the Christian church, was well and favorably known throughout the greater portion of Kentucky, he having been a travelling salesman for many years.

Mr. McKinney had been in feeble health since he got overheated about three months ago. He was stricken with paralysis about two weeks ago, since which time he had steadily grown weaker.

The deceased leaves a wife, two sons, Dr. J. O. McKinney and Mr. W. C. McKinney, Beaver Dam, and a host of friends and relatives.

Dave Will Likens Dead.

Dave Will Likens died at his home on Frederica street, at 11:30 o'clock last Sunday night of heart trouble and complications, after an illness of two weeks. His remains, after short funeral services conducted by Rev. Miller, were interred in the Bethel church burying grounds by the side of his father and wife, who preceded him several years.

He leaves a son, aged, mother, two brothers, Hon. G. B. Likens, Frankfort, Ky.; Mr. M. T. Likens, Hartford; two sisters, Mrs. Frank Black, Hartford, Route 2, and Mrs. Bernie Felix, Owensboro.

The large attendance at the burial attested the esteem in which the deceased, who was in his forty-fourth year, was held.

AN OLD CITY IS VICTIM OF WAR

Its Inhabitants Summarily Executed.

MANY PROMINENT MEN SHOT

Dinant, In Years Gone By, Had Frequently Been Scene Of Warfare.

WHAT "PHILIP THE GOOD" DID

London, Sept. 10.—An Ostend dispatch to the Reuter Telegraph Company says:

"The Germans have destroyed the Belgian town of Dinant (fifteen miles south of Marnur) after shooting hundreds of the male inhabitants, because it was alleged shots had been fired from the heights overlooking the city.

"The Germans in a few hours, by shell fire and incendiary, destroyed Dinant on the Meuse. Hundreds of male inhabitants were shot, including one party of one hundred prominent citizens, who were executed together in the Place D'Armes.

"Among those shot were M. Hummers, the wealthy manager of a large weaving factory, and M. Poncelot, son of a former Senator. The latter was killed in the presence of his wife and children. Germans appeared at a branch of the national bank, where they demanded the cash in the safe. The manager, M. Was-size, refused to hand it over, whereupon he, together with his two sons, was shot.

"There is no evidence so far as is known, that the alleged shooting from the heights resulted in the killing of any Germans."

Dinant, which had a population of about 8,000, dated back to the Sixth century. The town was picturesquely situated beneath tall limestone cliffs near the River Meuse. The cliffs were surrounded by the walls of an old fortress, much decayed through neglect, reared to defend the town against approach by the river.

Dinant frequently has been the scene of warfare. In 1466 Duke Philip the Good besieged the town with 30,000 men, and when it surrendered permitted his men to pillage it for three days and then set it on fire. Round in twos, 800 of the inhabitants were drowned in the Meuse, while Philip, although ill, witnessed the executions from the "litter on which he was carried to the river bank. Afterward even the walls of the buildings were leveled so that not a vestige of the town should remain.

The town was rebuilt by Charles the Bold, Philip's son, but it again was sacked and burned in 1554 by the French.

The principal building of historic interest was the Church of Notre Dame, built in the thirteenth century. The town was the center of manufactures of metallic wares, glass, paper and leather.

WHEAT ALONE WILL BE ONLY GRAIN FOR EXPORT

Washington, Sept. 11.—In wheat only will there be an excess in the country's food crops which might be exported to assist in paying off the nation's European obligations due to the sale of American securities by foreign holders early in the European conflict.

Department of Agriculture reports indicate that this is to be a short crop year in every other cereal.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative power that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

record, from present indications $96,000,000 bushels, there is a prospect that approximately 300,000 000 bushels might be available for export. With wheat selling at more than $1.10 a bushel, this would cost foreign buyers $330,000,000. It will be offset, however, by decreased takings of American cotton abroad.

Last year the United States exported $547,000,000 worth of cotton, but from present indications this year's exports will fall far below that amount.

It is pointed out that there will be little or no corn offered for export, because of the short crops. Last year also was a short corn year, and a considerable quantity of corn was imported, as probably will be the case this year.

HOW IT FEELS TO BE WORTH THIRTY CENTS

With the complete collapse of foreign exchange and credit in Europe many of our millionaires have had financial experiences which may give them a new outlook upon life. Some of them may have indistinct recollections of early hardships, but in most cases it was a shock and a calamity suddenly to be found almost or quite penniless in a strange country where all foreigners were under suspicion and those without resources doubly so.

Many of these tourists were caught with only a few coppers in their pockets. They had letters of credit which nobody recognized. They could draw checks which everybody would ignore. They could not telegraph, for the Government had seized the wires. Unless they came across friends or won the sympathy of humane people who had not gone crazy, they were instantly compelled to assume the role of well-dressed tramps.

Nobody knows how to live for a week on thirty cents until he has tried it. The thousands of rich Americans who had been brought face to face with this economic problem should now be able to approach some of the social, political and industrial issues of the day with new light, new sympathy and a new sense of human fellowship.—[New York World.]

The Worst.

"Germany, with France on one side of her and Russia on the other, with France drawing her that, is in as bad a pickle as Artemus Ward's invalid."

The speaker was Gen. Nathan Bedford Forest, of Memphis. He continued:

"To Artemus Ward, you know, a man once said:

"I've got toothache and earache. Could anything be worse?"

"Oh, yes," said Artemus. "I know a chronic sufferer of eighteen years' standing. He's much worse. For his complaint is inflammatory rheumatism coupled with St. Vitus' dance."

Col. Kenjockety.

If the question is asked why Sig. Sautelle's Nine Big Shows are heralding a Wild West as an attraction this season, let this be the answer: The great caterer to the people's welfare knows that variety is the nutmeg of existence. The times require "something different." Novelty is the keynote of happiness. Hence, Indians, cowboys and cowgirls (prettiest and chirkier); the atmosphere of the forests.

And these, greatest of all, headed by Col. Kenjockety. The King of the Wildwood and Overlord of the plains is "the real thing," too.

He has battled the redskins in their native heath; he is a master of woodcraft; he is "the bravest of the brave;" he is the genuine article, in fact, he is in charge of the realistic and lurid section of the Nine Big Shows.

The Indians and wild west features he captains are real inhabitants of fields and forests. This feature of the 9 Big Shows will be shown in rings and on hippodrome track. This Wild West novelty is "the trimmings" of the Circus, Menagerie and Hippodrome—the crested coloring of an interesting picture of magnificent realistic painting. Will visit Hartford, on September 17—to-morrow.

GERMAN'S SIEGE GUNS POWERFUL

Can Toss 750-Pound Projectiles

DISTANCE OF ABOUT 6 MILES

Can Be Fired At Rate Of Two Shots In Minute and a Half.

BIGGEST GUNS IN THE SERVICE

The 12-inch guns which will be used by the German army in attacking the fortifications of Paris are the most powerful guns that have ever been put in the field with a mobile army. One throws a projectile weighing 750 pounds, and its maximum effective range is about 10,000 yards, or close to six miles. At official field tests they have been fired at the rate of two shots in a minute and a half, and a record as high as two shots in a minute is said to have been reached. When the entire force of heavy guns are in action they will be able to throw against the fortifications at Paris 10,000 pounds of projectiles per minute. It is largely upon these powerful war engines that the German army will depend in its attempt to reduce the heavy fortifications around Paris. While most of the shots will probably be directed against the wall of the fortifications, many of the projectiles will be thrown onto the overhead defense and into the fortifications. The reduction of Namur in three days, it is thought, was the work of these large howitzers. Instead of horses, enormous traction engines are being used to bring them up. Japan used this type of howitzer in attacking Port Arthur with fearful effect. They were the same size, 11.2-inches, but by no means as powerful as the German guns.

Ordnance experts are free to acknowledge that the German is the most powerful mobile artillery that has ever been in service. Larger guns were used in the Civil War by the Northern army, but these siege guns were smooth bore and fired very crude projectiles. These guns were not in a strict sense mobile. They were on heavy bases, and it was about as great a task to move them as it is to transport a house. Even the Japanese guns were not on wheels and were semi-mobile. The German guns are on wheels and with motor trucks, according to the dispatches, and are able to keep up with the main body of the army. They will be at the defense of Paris as soon as the city is invested by the German army.

The task of furnishing ammunition for these heavy guns will be one which will tax the transportation facilities of the German line of communication to its limit. In all probability the ammunition for these guns will be sent forward from the great German arsenals in trainloads. In ten hours these guns will use 100,000 pounds of projectiles. Three weights of projectiles are used. The smallest projectile for long range firing is 484 pounds. The next size,

Mr. Phillips had Stomach Trouble for More than Five Years.

Mr. W. R. Phillips, Jr., 139 Moreland Ave., Atlanta, Georgia, writes: "I had the catarrh and stomach trouble for more than five years, and I faithfully tried all the medicines I saw advertised, and found they all failed to cure me. I then heard of Peruna. I purchased six bottles, and after their use I soon discovered that I was well, safe and sound. I now weigh two hundred and ten pounds, and have never been sick since I took Peruna. It surely is the best medicine for colds, stomach trouble and catarrh that I ever heard of."

is 670 pounds, while the largest is 750 pounds. The largest charge of powder used in firing the small projectile for the longest range is 22 pounds. The smallest charge used for the large projectiles is 12 1/4 pounds. The muzzle velocity ranges from 890 feet per second to 1,320 feet per second. The large projectile can be used effectively at a range of 7,000 yards, or over four miles, while the small type at 10,000 yards, or over six miles.—[Army and Navy Journal.]

PANIC RULES AUSTRIA—ARMIES IN OPEN MUTINY

London, Sept. 11.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail in Milan, who has lately been in Vienna, draws a gloomy picture of that Empire. He says:

"Panic rules in Austria. The great, unwieldy and bankrupt Empire, dragged reluctantly at the heels of Germany, is in a state of desperate muddle and fear. Her armies, half-hearted at first and now openly mutinous, are beaten back at every point by the Russians.

"The policy of mixing in each company men of the different races which compose the Empire has had the result that there is no esprit de corps in the army. The men were driven into trains at the point of the bayonet and scores were shot by their officers to terrorize their fellows into obedience.

"While the Russian avalanche drives on, Bosnia is in open revolt and Trieste paralyzed by fear of an attack from the sea. Austria is bankrupt, trade at a standstill and thousands of business men are ruined by war which they hate.

"While the harvest remains ungathered, Vienna is menaced by a famine and prices are steadily rising. In resentment the popular anger has turned against the foreigner and Serbs have been torn to pieces in the streets. Two Russian newspaper correspondents were shot by the police and five foreign journalists are in prison.

DEMAND FOR FERTILIZER INCREASED IN KENTUCKY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 14.—There are 56,783 farms in Kentucky that use fertilizer, and the annual purchases amount to $1,350,720, according to a recent report of the United States Census Bureau. Ten years ago the annual expenditure for fertilizer in this State was $908,350. Fertilizer purchases in Kentucky have increased $442,470, or 49 per cent, during the past decade. Twenty-two per cent. of the farms of this State use fertilizer and the average for the United States is 29 per cent.

In the entire nation there are 1,823,000 farms that use fertilizer and the present annual expenditure is $115,000,000. Ten years ago it was $53,000,000 for the entire nation.

Home Coming at B. F. C.

A great "Home Coming" is being planned to take place at Bethel Female College, Hopkinsville, Ky., on Wednesday, September 30, 1914. At this time every student ever enrolled at the college is earnestly requested and urged to be present. During the past sixty-odd years many women have had their training at Bethel, and it is hoped that there will be many representatives present from all the classes, and in addition to this that there will be a large number of those who have attended the college from time to time during all the years, but who did not graduate.

Of Opal Jewell Hooge, who died September 13, 1913.

Dear sister, thou art calm and still; It grieves us so, tho' 'twas the Master's will

To take from us the soul we so enshrined

To work with Him in peace sublime.

Yes, we know 'twas the Master's will Who calmed the heart that was bruised and chilled;

For on your sweet face was a smile of ineffable peace,

Whose sweetness tells of a life's surcease

From sorrow and from care.

Your gentle breast, its throbbings are o'er,

So, dear sister, we'll let you rest, We'll not disturb you, for the way was steep

O'er which you toiled with patient feet,

To reach the pure and blest.

Little you reck of hope and fear; The peace is found for which you've waited

Like a storm-tossed bird from its home was taken

Now you've reached the other shore.

Tho' while breathing the last in this world of pain

We bade you farewell, again and again,

And still with broken hearts we view this o'er and o'er—

We are only waiting to meet you on that fair celestial shore.

WHY WEAK LUNGS?

The toll of tuberculosis is claiming more than 350 victims every day in the United States, yet few realize their grave condition until the critical period arrives.

Overwork, worry, weakness after sickness, catarrh, bronchitis, tender throats—all exert the weakening influence that invites consumption.

To guard against consumption, thousands of people take Scott's Emulsion after meals because its rich medicinal nourishment strengthens the lungs, puts vigor in the blood, and rebuilds strength to resist tuberculosis. Scott's Emulsion is nature's strength-builder. Refuse substitutes.

THE PEOPLE "BIT" FOR HIS "RACY" LITERATURE

But It Was "Tame"—Anyhow
Uncle Sam Didn't Like His Game.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Postmaster General Burleson has issued a fraud order against the Kentucky Book Company, of Owensboro, Ky., alleging that it has been operating a new scheme to defraud by using the mails.

The information filed with the Postmaster General by Assistant Attorney General Lamar is based on the report of postoffice inspectors who went to Owensboro to investigate. It is stated that the Kentucky Book Company is an individual corporation, run by Ernest L. Morris, and that its scheme has been to hoodwink the people by advertising rich, rare and racy literature, which turns out to be perfectly harmless and unexciting.

It was impossible to prove the use of the mails to circulate obscene literature, because, as stated, the literature sent out is innocuous. The fraud consisted in the fact that the expectant victim, who was expecting something rich, got left. The postmaster general held that this was using the mails to obtain money by false pretenses and in this position his sustained by the legal advisers of the department.

Morris is well known in Owensboro and the eastern end of the county. He formerly resided at Philpot and, while operating there he was indicted in the Federal court and fined $150 and costs for sending obscene literature through the mails. After paying this fine Morris moved to Owensboro and continued in his business at his home on Cherry street. He claims that he had the approval of postoffice inspectors who indicated that he was not violating the law in any respect, although at the last term of court he was again indicted on a similar charge, and his case is set for hearing at the November term of court.

Morris perhaps is one of the best individual patrons of the Owensboro postoffice. His business has grown to a great magnitude, and he is often seen buying stamps in $50 and $100 lots. His mail is enormous, and he receives not only from all parts of the United States, but from foreign countries.

PUBLIC LETTING.

Ohio County Court.

M. B. Barnard vs. Public Levy. Notice is hereby given in above styled proceeding pursuant to law, that the undersigned will on Saturday, the 26th day of September, 1914, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 2 o'clock p. m., at the court house door in Hartford, Kentucky, let at public outcry to the lowest and best bidder the construction of the improvements directed to be made herein as follows:

WORK TO BE RESUMED ON RAILROAD WORK

Paducah, Ky., Sept. 12.—"Have arranged to have the construction of the Burlington Railroad from Paducah to Metropolis, Ill., resumed as originally planned," was the wording of a telegram received by James C. Utterback, Cashier of the City National Bank, from C. H. Cartledge, of Chicago, Chief Engineer of the Burlington. This work was halted a few days ago, when work on the Burlington bridge across the Ohio river at Metropolis, Ill., 121 miles below here, was stopped. The line from here to the bridge is to be built by a corporation known as the Paducah and Illinois Railroad Company. High rate of interest caused by the European war was given as the cause for stopping the work. The building of the bridge also is expected to be resumed. Details about the latter are expected when Superintendent C. R. Fickes returns from Chicago.

Girl Fights With Zouaves.

Paris, Sept. 12.—Among the wounded brought to Noisy-le-Sec, a town in the department of the Seine and near the Oureq Canal, was a young laundress in a soldier's uniform.

She had fed a company of Zouaves and had fought alongside of them in the trenches. Her identity was not discovered until she was wounded.

Before sending her to the rear the commanding officer complimented her on her bravery.

Grateful to Germans.

Copenhagen, Sept. 14.—A message from Berlin states that the French war prisoners at Stuttgart, in gratitude for their excellent treatment, have subscribed to the German Red Cross fund. The commander in chief, it is said, has decided that the amount subscribed shall be used for the benefit of the French wounded at Stuttgart.

Do You Want a Fence

Once a farmer said to one of his farmer friends when he was trying to sell him a cow:

"A cow is a cow." "Yes," replied the other, "but there's a mighty big difference in cows."

Some give lots of good milk, and some don't give enough to pay for their keep. Some it's a profit to own, and others a dead loss. It's the same way with you, Friend Farmer, in regard to your fencing. Some is profit to own and install while others are a dead loss. Remember we have the best wire fencing line, from the strongest pasture fence down to the poultry wire fence. Won't you please get our prices? We have rock-bottom price for every one. We're here with the goods.
